

Dawn Bailey

Parent & Child Teacher

As a lifelong seeker of beauty, Dawn loves to spend time with young children. Babies and toddlers provide such an excellent example of how to gaze with awe and wonder upon the magic and beauty of the world around us! Dawn will be teaching the Rosebuds class at the WISE this year, and strives to create a strong sense of warmth and community in her classes.

Dawn has been a part of the WISE community since her eldest child began kindergarten four years ago. Since the day she first set foot in the school, she knew that she had found the right place for her children to blossom and grow. The more time she spent at the school, the more she wanted to learn about Waldorf education, so in 2020 she began her ECE training at the West Coast Institute of Anthroposophical Studies. Dawn holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Toronto, a Master of Music degree from McGill University, and is in the beginning stages of a Bachelor of Education degree at the University of Alberta.

When she is not teaching the very smallest of the WISE students and furthering her own studies, she is teaching at Augustana University in Camrose, where she is the undergraduate voice instructor. She also loves spending time outdoors with her three children and her dog, and curling up with a good book and a cat on her lap at home.
