

Sheila Glebe

Class Five Co-Teacher

Sheila Glebe is delighted to have this opportunity to join the WISE Community. When she first discovered Waldorf, she was excited to learn about the academic and artistic curriculum and the dedication to allowing each child a developmentally attuned pedagogy. The Waldorf curriculum is purposeful and joyful, and this approach to education resonates with her teaching and learning beliefs.

She is an experienced teacher with many deeply meaningful years in the field of education, both as a teacher and as a school principal. She has been blessed to work in several Kindergarten to Grade 12 schools. Her favourite experience was working with a community of dedicated teachers and administration to build a new school from the ground up. Building a supportive community and inclusive culture was their primary focus. She sees this sense of an inclusive and welcoming community at WISE.

She believes each child's curiosity and creativity should be respected and nurtured in an environment that empowers students as learners, artists, and local and global citizens. Education is the opportunity to help each child develop and own their innate potential as creators and human beings.

When not working, you'll find her hiking, practicing yoga, painting, knitting, and enjoying the company of others. She loves to cook for large gatherings and to spend time in nature with friends and family. Sheila lives to find joy in each moment of every day.
